BEFORE CHRIST COMES

The pitiful efforts of men to stave off World War III and Armageddon will utterly fail, for lack of national repentance and humble prayer to God to avert the judgment we deserve for our rejection of Him. Through the prophet Zechariah, in 487 B.C., God declared, 'I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle', and 'Then shall the Lord go forth and fight against those nations.' It is the outrageous backsliding in Christian countries that is precipitating the fulfilment of ancient Biblical prophecies describing the end of this world as we know it.

'Ye shall not go unpunished, for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth' saith the Lord of hosts. (Jeremiah 25.29). The New Testament warns that in 'the last days', because of mankind's increasing wickedness, perilous times shall come, when God will cause all nations to drink the cup of His fury. Incredible folly and confusion evident throughout the world today is proof that men are already drinking God's cup of 'madness and astonishment'. There are even some ministers who are strengthening the hands of evildoers in their sins, as predicted in Jeremiah 23.14.

Bible prophecies are being rapidly fulfilled, showing that the time is ripe for Armageddon, and for God to intervene and destroy the corrupters of His world. When men shall talk of peace, then shall sudden destruction come upon them. Peace symbols are a sign of the 'last days', as is also the doubt and ridicule of God's Word, coupled with the cruel oppression of Christians under the continual spread of communism, and the universal fear of threatening world events. Israel is back in her own land as a nation, and Christ said that the generation that witnessed that event would not pass away before He returned. He also said that when there had been a world-wide coverage of the Gospel, then would come the end of the age.

The centre of the earth is a raging furnace, and we are told that, immediately after the Great Tribulation (Matthew 24.21 & 29) and Armageddon (Revelation 16.16-20), forces will be released in the mightiest earthquake of all time, that will rip the earth apart, flattening cities, burning up the elements with fervent heat, and even shaking the heavens, in preparation for the final establishment of the new world wherein dwelleth righteousness. 'Then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.'

The coming of Christ will be like lightning shining out of the East, even unto the West (Matt. 24.27). We need to watch the East and the events happening in Socialist dominated countries, which will lead to the judgment and damnation of ungodly men on a national scale. Russia now rules more of the world than Great Britain ever did, and the Eastern Block has the power to destroy the West by space missiles, but when God brings Russia to fight against Israel, five-sixths of Russia's military power will be destroyed. (Ezekiel 39.1-5). Then when the armies of the East (China, etc.) cross the River Euphrates, according to Rev. 9.18 and 16.12, one-third of men will be destroyed by fire, smoke and brimstone (probably thermo-nuclear warfare), leaving apparently radio-active bodies for burying by the de-contamination squad. (Ezekiel 39.14,15)

God told Daniel that at the time of the end the wise would be able to understand many things hitherto indiscernible. It seems Isaiah 13.8 can now be understood as describing a man's face when exposed to radio-active burning; Zechariah 14.12 explains the effect on men of exposure to atom bombs; Habakkuk 1.10 points to the present-day making of radio-active dust bombs.

Quoting Lenin:

'Communism will never succeed until the myth of God is removed from the minds of men.'
(So the humanist socialists are removing every vestige of Christianity from Australia.)

The Main Tactic of Lenin & Marcuse -

'To capture the mind of the student intellectual, pervert his idealism and easily inflamed emotionalism, to recruit revolutionaries for the communist cause.'

FREEDOM -

without obligation is anarchy;
with obligation is democracy.
(Dr. J. Wiseberry)

need not be equated with every aspect of moral law, but it must legislate against what is destructive of society. Any government that does not provide security for society loses legitimacy.

means less production and less consumption of junk commodities - yet they produce and consume marijuana, one of the greatest junk commodities and social evils of our time. They also advocate a Federal take-over of Education so that schools as such can be made obsolete and the A.U.S. itself become the centralized 'learning exchange' for non-compulsory education of people of all ages - because they think that schools infringe children's rights.

Our children have already been made into guinea pigs through the experimental recommendations of Dr. Radford, Director of the Australian Council for Educational Research, which is a unique body, set up by the Carnegie Corporation, USA, now financed by both Federal and State grants. Although it is entirely independent of either Government in its decisions and operations, yet it wields very great power over most levels of our Education System, and is a very influential change agent. (Another instance of power and decisions by other than our elected representatives.) It also has powerful influence over teachers by its preparation of much teaching material. (Chap. XIV of 'Educational Administration') It is the serious problems created in education by such as the A.C.E.R. that will bring in their wake even more pressurizing of Governments by the A.U.S. for the ultimate in cures! - Dr. Ivan Illich's radical theory known as 'de-schooling society' publicized widely by AUS.

Daniel 12.1 says that there shall be a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation, but that God's people (everyone found written in the Book of Life) shall be delivered, when God acts to destroy those who have corrupted His world through spiritual, moral and environmental pollution. This divine promise is strength and courage to all Christians.

CHANGING OUR CULTURE IN THE AGE OF AQUARIUS

Last month about 6000 students and others congregated at Nimbin in N.S.W. for an Australian Union of Students' Aquarius Festival - the word 'Aquarius' indicating the planned movement out of the age of Christianity (symbolized by 'Pisces') into its antithesis, the almost primitive heathenism of hippy permissiveness; characteristic of what astrologers call the Aquarian generation. (Questions of Astrology, by Parker). At Nimbin 90% took drugs, 50% practised nudity, immorality, etc. When young people can reduce themselves to such a state of unrestricted nudity, crude vulgarity, marijuana-smoking, etc, to mock Christian civilization; many of them even appearing nude on T.V. - -

When such infantile behaviour draws no waves of protest from the mature and responsible sections of the nation, but is actually subsidized by the Federal Government with the massive amount of $40/50,000 - -

When it is remembered that these teenagers (who can display such utter disregard for civilized decency) will shortly be occupying dominating roles in our society - -

THEN the conclusion must be that this country is 'sicker' than we thought, and cannot long endure as a free nation.

According to an A.U.S. submission to the Federal Government for support (published May issue of Q.I.T. student magazine 'Unit') the Australian Union of Students claims that Western Society values have given way to an alternative morality, evidenced by the changing social set-ups and accommodation arrangements of the 'drop-out' people who want to revolutionize our society. So they arranged Nimbin as a practical way of enabling people to participate - in their counter-culture experiment! The organizers felt that this should then evolve into permanent community living, and they appealed for Government help.

'..such a venture would need about 1500 acres and the order of cost would be $200,000. The experimental community.. would never ..aim at being a contributor to the Gross National Product. An easy criticism of the proposal is that it would be using Commonwealth funds, the taxpayers' hard won and reluctantly parted with revenue, to subsidize bums.' (Why should such a group deplete what others have sacrificially built up?? What if everyone, or even every Union, demanded the same hand-outs??)

Included in the submission also were the following words :

'Once it was considered highly immoral not to work and so not spend or invest a wage. Not only was the bum 'stealing' the resources generated by others to subsist, but the person was unpatriotically not doing his or her due bit to build the nation.. (God's attitude to those who 'sponge' on others is well expressed in 2 Thess. 3.10 - 'If any would not work, neither should he eat')

Welfare State-ism tends to destroy independence and ruggedness of character, induces a lack of purpose which multiplies drug and sex addiction. The advocates of the counter culture say that not working

The Director, ~~University of Queensland~~ Joyner)

30th April, 1973.

The Secretary,
Qld. Institute of Technology Council,
P.O. Box 246,
NORTH QUAY, 4000

Dear Mr. Anstey,

I am enclosing extracts from the following issues of 'National U' -

26/2/73; 5/3/73; 19/3/73; 2/4/72; 9/4/73

for careful consideration by members of the Council.

To quote Cicero - 'Only a madman could maintain that the distinction between the honourable and dishonourable, between virtue and vice, is a matter of opinion, not of nature.' - therefore I am not merely expressing an opinion, but am describing the actual nature of the writings concerned, when I classify them as extreme examples of pornography and obscene blasphemy. With this I am sure you will agree.

When speaking to you on the 'phone on 26/2/73 about the effect of this type of perverted student publication, I drew your attention to a paragraph in 'Semper' (Vol.43, No.1) saying that A.U.S. (Aquarius) is touring personalities such as Richard Neville (of 'Cz' fame). Chapters 13 and 16 of 'Pornography: The Longford Report' records the philosophy of this man and his outspoken intention to use explicit sex writings and drawings 'to get rid of the hated nuclear family (mum, dad and the kids)' by encouraging widespread promiscuity among the young. Mr. Neville is one of the followers of Professor Herbert Marcuse, who chose sexual license as the weapon most suited to destroy Western civilized society and to forge an alternative society based on the utmost in immorality - the long-term results of which create serious difficulties in the upbringing of children and contribute to an increased incidence of crime and mental instability.

It is therefore fair to say that, by providing greater opportunities for Richard Neville to use his evil influence over students, especially in tertiary institutions, the A.U.S. is openly showing its contempt for their parents and family life, and its fierce desire to undermine and corrupt all those who continue on to higher education, by deliberately causing teenage promiscuity on as large a scale as possible.

Peter Grosvenor (Literary Editor, 'Daily Express') writes that, although he is an agnostic, he still does 'support the sanctity of family life as the best way yet devised for bringing up children... There has been no successful society yet which did not have some form of family life and long-term marriage.'

Writing to you therefore on behalf of the Executive and members of S.T.O.P., as well as the vast majority of other people who would agree wholeheartedly with Peter Grosvenor, I would impress upon you the powers given to Councils of Colleges of Advanced Education by the Education Act, and appeal to you to use them to halt the damage being done to susceptible young minds through 'National U' and the efforts of A.U.S., which are made very effective by Q.I.T.'s own Union Council (with the apparent present blessing of the Administration). Even Q.I.T. 'Unit' is not without blame.

To assert, as some do, that censorship of publications or entertainment forms constitutes an infringement of personal liberty, is of course quite true. The whole body of law, from traffic regulations to the criminal code, from taxation to tort law, involves restraints on individual freedom. Without law, there is only the total freedom of anarchy, which creates the very conditions that will lead to the tyranny of a fascist or communist dictatorship.

Through censorship laws not being applied, we have the present mushrooming of pornographic, violent and anti-God literature and entertainment, and it must be clear to all thinking people that this is an extremely aggravating factor in the gradual movement of the younger generation towards lawlessness. This trend could easily have been prevented by the maintenance of our Law Court Rulings and interpretations which are still current and applicable.

It is not a change of law that is needed, but just a sincere application of it, and here no small amount of blame can be attached to lack of responsible adult influence over student behaviour and thus over the moral tone of the universities, colleges, schools, etc. This is the basis of the campaign being waged by the Society To Outlaw Pornography.

We recognize that laws cannot make every individual virtuous, but at least they can be so framed and invoked as to prevent or discourage immoral, offensive sexual deviations and obscenities from being openly flaunted before the eyes of those who may succumb to the innate power of erotica. Sexual licentiousness is an internal threat to society (see A. Toynbee's 'Study of History' and Dr. J. Unwin's 'Sex and Culture') and this establishes the right of those in authority to prevent internal decadence by legislation, with penalties prescribed (just as for theft or murder).

It has been said that the Christian view of evil is that 'it is a force which drags down particular sections of society so that they seem to be sub-human'. The enclosed pages from 'National U' exhibit this sub-human, sex-addicted life-style which is being propagated by A.U.S. in their determined attempt to introduce into Australian Institutions ideologies and ways of living that are completely foreign to the bulk of the Australian population.

In 'An Essay on Liberation', Prof. Marcuse wrote -

'Liberation would mean subversion against the will and against the prevailing interest of the great majority of people.'

Likewise the counter-culture that A.U.S. is supporting and promoting is being imposed by a minority against the will of the largely defenceless majority, from whom fees are being compulsorily collected by the Administration on behalf of A.U.S. and being used to finance the publishing of the minority-controlled subversive 'National U', which, if unchecked, will become an effective tool for imposing their disruptive will over the rights of others, including students' parents and future employers', both of whom contribute much towards making tertiary education possible, and who expect and are entitled to satisfaction without regrets.

The influence of the ideas and writings of Marcuse is contributing to the disintegration of the family and civilized society in many countries; and through 'National U' (including articles adapted from the 'Berkeley Barb' of California), Marcuse's destructive policy is being put into operation at Q.I.T. by the A.U.S. It should be noted that Marcusean policy is totally destructive of civilized society, based as it is on the antithesis of Freud's conclusions that sublimation of the sex instinct provides the life-giving energy for society welfare, while sexual licence tends to de-energize the population.

Marcuse visualizes the disproportionate emergence of a self-indulgent, undisciplined and unskilled section of society, which is just what is required for the purpose of organized disintegration of the whole. Recruitment for self-indulgence is far easier than for self-discipline, and the Marcusean 'National U' is mobilizing the appetites of the body for the destructive phase of a Marxist revolution in Australia. In this respect it places itself not only within the category of obscene printed matter being publicly sold in contravention of Section 228 of the Queensland Criminal Code, but also aligns itself with 'Playboy', of which it was stated in the judgment which unanimously upheld the order prohibiting its distribution in Queensland -

- (1) by Chief Justice Mansfield - that the editorial 'Playboy Philosophy' 'tends to emphasise the idea that inhibitions in relation to sexual matters and to conventional sexual conduct and the open discussion thereof is old-fashioned and obsolete...' and that he was 'satisfied that the publication has a tendency to deprave and corrupt.'
- (2) by Judge Lucas - that 'In this example it appears that the encouragement of seduction is elevated into the realms of a public service... These extracts are typical of the manner in which the magazine treats the question of promiscuous sexual relations. Its attitude is cynical and amoral. It has in my opinion the tendency to deprave and corrupt the persons into whose hands it is likely to fall, notwithstanding that these persons are likely to be of higher order of education than average.'

Would not you agree that these descriptions could also be applied to the 'National U'? If distribution of 'Playboy' is prohibited in Queensland, then should not a ban also be applied to 'National U'?

Regarding 'Unit' Magazine, I am also enclosing extracts from the following editions:-

July, 1972; September 1972; October 1972; February 1973; March 1973; and May 1973.

as evidence of Marcuse's influence on Q.I.T.U.'s attitude towards abortion, lesbianism, sexual freedom, birth control to encourage fornication; as well as obscenities and totalitarian regimes and the A.U.S. counter-culture attempt.

Under Section 62C of the Education Act, the Council of the Q.I.T. is empowered to make by-laws regarding -

- (1)(v) the discipline of students of the college and punishment for breaches of discipline including exclusion from attendance at the college;
- (1)(xviii) the Union of the college, including the powers, authorities and obligations of the Union, and membership fees;
- (1)(xix) such other matters as may from time to time be necessary or convenient for the carrying into effect of the several provisions, objects and purpose of this Act and generally for the control, management, good government and discipline of the college.

Will you please advise me (both as a parent and as Director of S.T.O.P.) whether there are in existence already any by-laws as above which could be invoked to place the Union under an obligation to submit to your Council for prior approval, not only all future issues of 'National U' but also of 'Unit', so that permission for distribution (and printing, in the case of 'Unit') be dependent upon the absence (or elimination) of the present unwholesome and undue emphasis on the amoral aspects of sex, on perversions and blasphemy, which constitutes a breach of the community standards established by Section 228 of the Queensland Criminal Code (applied in the 'Playboy' case).

It is the responsibility of your Council to promote at Q.I.T. an atmosphere of wholesome learning in keeping with a more acceptable concept of tertiary behavioural standards, into which parents can confidently direct their student-children, is it not?

If suitable or relevant by-laws do not exist, then will your Council please consider rectifying the situation by framing legislation that will effectively prevent Marcusean doctrines from making disciples and recruiting revolutionaries at Q.I.T.

The Executive of S.T.O.P. will appreciate your advice on this matter, as copy of this letter, plus your reply, will be later circulated to all our members.

Yours sincerely,

(sgd.) R. Joyner

FOR THE INFORMATION OF READERS - 'National U' referred to above is the official publication circulated to tertiary institutions throughout Australia by the A.U.S. (the large and influential Australian Union of Students).

'AUS News' (in May 1973 'Unit') reports that this Student Union has now been accepted as an associate member of the 'International Union of Students' of the Third World countries (which labels A.U.S. as Stalinist according to Uni. 'Semper'). This, A.U.S. claims, is a privilege being denied most student organizations in other Western nations. A.U.S. has also invited a delegation of North Vietnamese students to Australia to tour campuses collecting funds for the reconstruction of NORTH Vietnam. Their aim is $100,000 for this purpose.

Students in most tertiary institutions have fees compulsorily collected from them by the Administration in part for A.U.S.. Of this some is put to use in the furtherance of left-wing socialist aims and objectives, which include the pressurising of the Government and the State Departments of Education with a declared Education policy that aims to deschool society entirely and destroy traditional forms of education, along with Western morality and civilization as we know it.

Prof. Marcuse's philosophy of destruction of society through the introduction of a sub-human, sex-addicted, permissive life-style is completely foreign to the bulk of the Australian population, but as Prof. Marcuse admits, it will be achieved by the gradual subversion of morals, 'against the will and against the prevailing interest of the great majority of people'. (This latest system of points for programmes on T.V. & Radio appears to be but another prong of this same Marcusean principle that is expected to turn people into sex-addicts and drop-outs from their families. Newspapers and other media report from Nimbin in N.S.W. that the Aquarius Festival is an experiment in the counter-culture type of undesirable community living, with its lawlessness indecencies and lack of hygiene.

'Unit' magazine mentioned above is the publication of the Q'ld. Institute of Technology Union,

It has a strong contribution from revolutionary sources.

PARENTS - You should become informed and concerned about these aspects of student life. Please be warned and become vocal by writing letters, calling Open Line, etc

On 15th June, the Society To Outlaw Pornography wrote a further letter to the Queensland Institute of Technology Council, suggesting that the Q.I.T. Administration consider ceasing the collection of Union Fees from students. Drawing attention to the fact that a large majority of students did not vote last week for a representative on the Union, thus indicating their low esteem for it, we also pointed out the few students who are interested in promoting the revolutionary tactics of A.U.S. and the blasphemy and obscenity content of the 'National U' and 'Unit' would doubtless find it impractical to continue doing so without the finance provided compulsorily, as at present, by students (and ultimately by taxpayers) with diametrically opposite ideologies.

We trust the Council will give careful consideration to our submissions.

SEX AND SUBVERSION

Some time ago Sir Paul Hasluck pointed out that today degradation is being aggressively forced on the large body of decent people who dislike this development, by a small group who have a vested interest in the sex-cult and the corruption of youth. ('National Decency News', Feb. 1970) There is no profit to be made from normalities, so the community is being incited to perversions and extremes.

Pressures from the perverting influence of many movies, radio and T.V. programmes, plays, songs and magazines, student newspapers and certain High School and Tertiary study material are dictating the trend of behaviour for our young people, and much of it emanates from the very widespread teachings of Herbert Marcuse (once a fanatical young communist in Germany, but now an elderly Marxist Professor of Philosophy in California). This man developed a doctrine - that has since been put into practice by the Yippies (The Youth International Party) - that Western Society can be destroyed by a combination of music, sex, drugs, treason, and the revolutionary potential of intellectual professors and students, national minorities and disadvantaged groups.

Marcuse's plan was to produce anarchists for destructive political purposes, as an essential preliminary to a totalitarian take-over, by formulating a new moral code for society - 'If you have an urge, indulge it. Indulgence is good, control is evil.' Yippy leader, Jerry Rubin, wrote 'Do It' as a 'Declaration of War between the generations - calling on kids to leave their homes, burn down their schools and create a new society on the ashes of the old.' ('The Three Faces of Revolution' by Dr. Schwarz).

Timothy Leary, the 'Patron Saint of Pot' and leader of the drug cult, also incites teenagers to drop out from society and become hippies, while Albert Camus, who advocates defiant rejection of God, is another dangerous writer promoted by the Marxists. ('Atheism & Alienation' by Masterson) In use at some Queensland High Schools is a textbook ('Actions & Reactions' Book 3 of a thematic English Course) containing writings by these and many other pro-revolutionaries. Parents must protect against this intrusion of Marxist propaganda into the classroom - especially when questions set in the textbook tend to direct thoughts towards drug experimentation, and away from God and true Christianity.

Marcuse and his followers have no scruples about brainwashing schoolchildren, using them as pawns in their power struggle, and then leaving them the sorry victims of betrayal with educational opportunities wasted and possibly their health ruined. Young immature students are being swept into supporting such absurd teachings only because the intellectuals are adept at subtle indoctrination and clever publicising of their case, while not necessarily disclosing the whole truth nor placing matters into proper perspective.

Lavrentia Beria (former head of Russia's secret police) once said 'If we could effectively kill the national pride and patriotism of just one generation we will have won that country...' Marcuse, Dr. Rugg and others have worked consistently to this end; and the Revolutionary Youth Movement in America has added the following major features to the plan:

Schools must be closed, not reformed; women must repudiate the role of wife-mother; youth should be encouraged to work on political projects, to 'turn on', 'trip out', and declare war on monogamy; the police must be fought; revolutionary collectives on communes must be formed to create a massive revolutionary movement to become a division of the International Liberation Army.

Cancer is painless until it is incurable - so is Godless socialism, communism and Marcuseanism, and all of us are potential victims. The tragic and frightening thing about it all is that those who are conscious of the disloyalty, treachery and conspiracy in our midst are ridiculed as prophets of doom if they attempt to expose it.

To tolerate unpalatable food can be good for you, but to tolerate contaminated food is certain to invite disease or death. Many ideas that children these days are urged to accept are dangerously contaminated with atheism and situation ethics, and are an absolute abomination to God. What is the value of tolerating any and every human viewpoint, when none is capable of giving a clear standard of right and wrong.

Sir Reginald Scholl said that young people should be told not to despise the past without first appreciating the good and beautiful we have inherited from it; not to destroy current institutions and practices when they have no constructive workable alternatives; and that the happiest and best people are those who pay for what they receive from society, or at least repay those who have paid it for them, be they parents, benefactors, founders of scholarships - or even the Australian taxpayer.'
