In Passing...

A fool learns by his own experience; a wise man by the experience of others; so why must we try out already discredited innovations?

Communism cannot conquer while men believe in God, (Lenin), for tyrants and despots cannot long survive in an enlightened society! (Prof. R. Ulich)

Christianity thrives on 'What is mine is thine and you can have it in love.' Communism thrives on 'What is thine is mine and I'll have it at your expense.'

Parents! You can hold schools and teachers accountable for how they mould your child. (Prof. R. Johnson)

Behavioural Science, Sexuality Courses, &c can cause changes harmful to character, mind, and morals.

One courageous mother managed to have sensitivity training outlawed in Garden Grove, Calif. Why not here also?

and as Mr. C. Keating, (member of Commission on Obscenity and Pornography) said: 'When God went out of the schools, pornography came in.' ('Who Does She Think She Is?' by Mary Whitehouse) This and other informative books are available from S. T. O. P., Lutwyche

It is the right of parents in a democracy to bring up children in the way they believe is best. It is the duty of the government to assist the family but not to replace it. It is the duty of government to provide schools as an extension of the family and not as a substitute for it. (Mr. W. Dent, headmaster of Toowoomba Grammar School - C-M 30/11/73). But UNESCO, and Sen. Murphy, have other ideas - Vol. VI of 'Towards World Understanding' stresses the need for the State to replace the family, and our current Bill of Rights excludes recognition of the rights of the family, such as in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and denies parents liberty to teach children religious beliefs. No socialist government thinks that parents are capable of caring for their young, especially in educational matters.

Speaking of School...

Education has taken a whole new twist! It has ceased to transmit traditional culture, and has begun to change society, against the will of the majority of citizens. In State Schools, irrespective of parents' wishes, major changes have resulted in some children being left to teach themselves, set their own homework, do anything or nothing in informal 'open' classrooms - with the teacher not necessarily dispensing either discipline or knowledge. ('Some Current Trends' by R. Fitzgerald and J. Matthews, in NSW Journal 'Education' 15/8/73)

Teachers and pupils are being subtly subjected to the adverse side of Sensitivity Training in various ways, and 'Change Agency' (the role of group leaders in changing and conditioning others to new and alien philosophies.)

SENSITIVITY TRAINING: 'Group meetings to discuss publicly, intimate personal matters, opinions, values or beliefs, and/or act out emotions and feelings towards one another in the group, using self-confession and mutual criticism. It is also 'coercive persuasion in the form of thought reform or brainwashing'. This admission that sensitivity (human relations) training is brainwashing is from P.47 of 'Issue in Training', a manual for group leaders published by National Training Laboratories of the National Education Association.

'Courses in this area, whether they be Group Dynamics, Organizational Theory or Educational Administration, will become an increasingly important part of teacher preparation in colleges and universities.' (Mr. D. Ogilvie, ex-Lismore Teachers' College - writing in 'New Horizons in Education') This widespread use of thought-persuasion on student-teachers, who in turn will practise it on our children, must be resisted by parents! Radical educationists promote these changes which could lead to anarchy and tyranny, while discarding the discipline and authority necessary to maintain true freedom. (Dr. K. Tregonning, Headmaster, Hale School, Perth, WA)

In Brisbane, Corinda High has one such Human Relations Course, (C-M 10/5/73), and Sydney now has some primary schools also with behavioural science courses where 'the classroom becomes a laboratory where specimens of behavioural interaction are explored by the pupils'. (We are talking here of nine-year-olds and upwards, and they themselves, presumably, are also the specimens) .. The emphasis is shifting from teaching to discussing problems; but criticism without knowledge is little more than thoughtless prejudice. Those who abandon the wisdom of the past may well be depriving our children of the means of developing their talents to the full. (Prof. L. Kramer, President Australian Council for Educational Standards)

While people slept in America, one militant Humanist had the mention of God made illegal in State Schools! While we sleep in Australia, our God is being just as surely eradicated from our schools,

THE HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL (in 1974)

'Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations. I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.'

(Isaiah 66. 3, 4)

'Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at His word... He shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.'

(Isaiah 66. 5)

'For as the new heavens and the new earth which I will make, shall remain before Me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain.'

(Isaiah 66. 22)

About 2,500 years ago, Belshazzar, the Chaldean King, saw the handwriting on the wall after he and his guests had taken part in blasphemous, drunken festivities. Fingers of a man's hand wrote words that required the insight of young Daniel (a Jew), to reveal their frightening meaning. It was because the King had not glorified Almighty God (in Whose hand was his breath and his destiny), but instead had blasphemed Him and praised gods of men's making, that God sent that supernatural message of doom, saying that Belshazzar, weighed in the balances and found wanting, must forfeit his kingdom to the Medes and Persians.

That night Belshazzar was slain and Darius the Mede took over the kingdom. (Daniel chapter 5). Such is the certainty of all of God's prophetic utterances.

God has also given us 'handwriting on the wall' - Signs of the times - when He prophesied of our day, 'As for My people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O, My people, they that lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths. (Isaiah 3. 12). God has also made it clear that in the end times there shall be scoffers whose lives are ruled by their lusts, who will not listen to sound teaching, but who will favour those who pander to their modernistic tastes, ('progressive' educators, who will turn away their students from the truth and guide them into errors and fables). (2 Peter 3. 3 and 2 Timothy 4. 3, 4)

Psalms 2. 1-4 also foretold the raging of the heathen and people imagining vain things; rulers plotting and planning to rid the world of the wise restrictive influence of Christ and His people on community life and ethics, ('but He that sitteth in the heavens is laughing: the Lord is having them in derision'). So much for God's opinion of the teachings of modern humanism, this new academic thought that replaces the Bible's supernatural revelation of God, Satan and man, with human and often erroneous insights into the nature of the universe. It is said to be an attempt by the atheistic mind to meet the needs of those who imagine that God's eternal scriptures are out of step with our modern life, (although how mere man in a moment of time can outstrip the God of eternity is not explained).

Humanism is materialistic. It regards life and mind as having risen by vague evolutionary processes out of inorganic matter - without even the intervention of either a supernatural Power or a 'life force'!!! In place of God's purpose in predestination, humanism offers man's own schemes in a worldwide conspiracy against the human race. Ignoring their bounden duty to their Creator and His laws, humanists tell us that there are a number of different possible views concerning the origin, nature, status and foundation of our moral convictions, ('A Humanist View'). Morality based on other than God's moral law has no foundation in truth, and yet humanism rejects without cause He who is Truth and who commands obedience to His laws. God told Daniel that 'they that understand among the people shall instruct many', yet even so, people 'shall fall by the sword, by flame and by captivity...' (Daniel 11. 33) It is our duty to speak God's words to men, whether they will hear or not, (Ezekiel 2. 7).

And in 1974, God's words are being spoken - and the writing is on the wall - 'Because their tongue and their doings are against Jehovah, to provoke the eyes of His glory... they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their souls, for they have done evil unto themselves.' God says 'Woe unto the wicked, for it shall be ill with him; for what his hands have done shall be done unto him.' (Isaiah 3. 8-11). As you consider the world's distressing moral and spiritual conditions, ponder on what it will take in 1974 to awaken people to their position before a Holy God. A word on your part? Perhaps literature passed on to someone in need of enlightening information? Will God's writing on the wall cause modern atheists to tremble as it did Belshazzar? Only God knows the answer, for it is only Jesus Christ, by His Holy Spirit, who can work such miracles.

'Unto man He said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding.'

(Job 28. 28)

We said... 'HELP STOP MORAL POLLUTION' ... (But should you?)

- # Should you become involved in protests against society's ills?
- # Should you speak out against immodesty, immorality and indecency?
- # Should you oppose the laxity of the guardians of our moral welfare, and the slackening of controls regulating community behaviour?

* * * * *

These are questions that pose a challenge at the present time. What are your reactions to them?

1. Could it be that you feel hesitant about expressing your viewpoint in these matters? But remember that while you are sitting passively by, afraid of 'imposing your views on others', non-Christian standards are being imposed on the public every day by the media. Almost all literature, films, T. V and radio programmes today present things from the non-Christian standpoint. How seldom do we see the Christian way of life, complete with prayer and faith in the time of trouble or praise to God in time of success, being presented in such a way that Christians can identify with the characters concerned?
2. Is it that you are afraid of being labelled 'spoilsport' by the permissives? Jesus Christ was never afraid to identify sin and to call for repentance. The lawless and disobedient need to be taught the law of God (1 Tim. 1.9) '... the law is... for the unholy... for manslaughter, for whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, ...' - otherwise how can people come to know the value of God's law in determining human rights for themselves and others? Remember Western civilization is based on the fact that the individual derives his freedoms and his rights from God's laws, not from the State.
3. Perhaps you remain silent through having heard the cliché "environmental pollution is far worse than moral pollution, and war is an obscenity and worse than blasphemy". Actually this is not a valid argument, because it is not a case of 'either...or', but rather of 'both...and', for we are concerned about both problems. We wonder why those who protest against pollution of the earth don't also take action to stop the current pollution of men's minds. If some people have the right to concentrate on one aspect of pollution, then surely other people have the right to be primarily concerned with a different type of pollution, which damages, not the earth, but the people who inhabit it.
4. Surely you have been grieved by the continual lowering of our community standards. Then don't believe the tale that conservatives have no right to restrict the behaviour of the avant garde. Anyone who demands the right to whatever he likes without limitation is being totally selfish - and the ultimate extension of this attitude is anarchy and destruction. True freedom consists of being able to do that which is right and good and beneficial to others in God's sight, which behaviour never causes harm to others.
5. Do you lack the will to protest because people have convinced you that censorship is wrong and that everyone should be free to read, see and hear whatever they like? Would you also believe that people should be free to peddle and use drugs as they like? Didn't Jesus teach us that we are responsible for one another's welfare? If certain types of books, films, T. V. or radio programmes are tending to have a dangerous effect on some people, sometimes resulting in suffering being inflicted on innocent victims, then something must be done about it, positively and speedily. Something much stronger than mere 'token resistance' to the evil is needed. Our opposition must be definite and sincere. Censorship is already a fact - so let it work for us as well as against us. Haven't you noticed how the very ones who object to censorship are actually practising it themselves. The media publicizes what they want us to know, and the slant is often obvious - with Christian standards usually the victim. There is also discrimination against some who uphold God's law

Admitted you may not wish to be involved in the conflict against evil in our society (who does?), but be warned, sooner or later society will involve you in its evils whether you like it or not - for no man lives in a vacuum.

We are the delinquents (not our children), when we allow them to be subjected to licentious pornographic literature (and television, radio, etc.) without making our voices heard to show we disapprove and are disgusted and sickened. How dare we censure the younger generation when it is our generation that has allowed such contamination of their minds. Can't we say 'NO' anymore?

Under the guise of liberality, and fear of being called 'square', there has developed, not a loosening of the reins to freedom, but an enslavement in corruption by the avaricious few.

How many marriages have failed, or not even come to fruition, because of perverted practices expected by one partner or the other as a result of reading of these things (or viewing them in 'R' films), and regarding them as normal expected behaviour? Where are the true guidelines to be found - the handrails to support the young when steps begin to falter?

Yes, we are the delinquents! The word means - (adjective) 'neglectful of or failing in a duty or obligation'; (noun) 'one who fails to perform a duty or who commits a fault'.

Dare we say we are not delinquent, when we allow authors, publishers and producers to flood our country and our culture with filth, designed to arouse and unnaturally excite passions. Many adults cannot cope with this, and yet we allow our children to be subjected to it, till they have read it all, seen it all, and even experienced it all. How sad that they have been left nothing to discover for themselves in true love, beauty and wonderment! What a human tragedy is he who needs porn as a sexual prop!

No wonder there is hate and resentment, a lack of respect toward our so poorly run Establishment! We have been tried and found wanting, and the kids are suffering.

So what are you going to do about it? Settle back and watch T. V.? Hope somebody else will DO SOMETHING? Who is this SOMEBODY? That somebody SHOULD be you! Write to publishing companies, T. V. and Radio Stations, and to newspapers. Ring up Open Line programmes on Radio (In Brisbane, 4 BC or 4 BH or 'Stirrers' on 4KQ) but, above all, make sure that your local Member of Parliament is kept well informed of your desire for decency and decorum in the community and especially in the media. BE POSITIVE! Your child's future depends on you. Tell them that we, the public, don't want pornography (in 'R' films or otherwise) - not for ourselves, and most definitely not for our children!

DO IT NOW! These are evil days, and sin is escalating, even as it has been prophesied in scripture. Christ's coming is imminent, so let us be found at His coming fully occupied, not only in protesting against the broken laws of God, and the return to barbarism, but also in upholding our Lord Jesus as the Light of this dark world and the Saviour of those who are truly repentant of sin.

*****

We have said, and we continue to say... 'Help STOP MORAL POLLUTION' for we believe that you should, (if you take seriously the responsibility and the privilege that God has given you, either as adults in a civilized society or as parents of precious children, who will be the citizens of tomorrow).

Refusal to Serve - The underlying attitude of Women's Lib, Abortion Law Reform and Children by Choice is one of refusing to serve husband, home and family with sacrificial love. Divorce Law Reform, euthanasia and suicide highlight this disinclination to serve society. Legalizing pornography indicates the Government's refusal to bear the burden of protecting the immature and unstable members of society.

Token Resistance to Evil is part of the 'gradual planned process' of changing people's attitude to evil by making people tolerant towards lawbreakers and criminals. We see it in penalties that don't fit crimes, in the non-enforcement of laws, especially those relating to obscene imports (films, books, etc.), to T. V. and radio programs that go beyond the bounds of decency and decorum as stated in the Broadcasting Control Board Standards Booklets, (without the licensee losing his licence, which is the prescribed penalty for such a breach of the regulations).
